LANCELOT PIZZA OVEN

If you enjoy the taste of wood fired cooking there is no better oven to cook in than our Lancelot Outdoor Oven. The old world design of the floor and dome of the chamber burns wood quickly and creates fire and coals that produce a high heat to cook foods evenly and efficiently. Crusty pizza is baked in just 10 minutes or less. Vegetables are roasted to perfection and meat is seared on the outside and juicy on the inside.

Use only dry hard wood, such as oak, which burns hotter. Avoid resinous wood such as pine or spruce. Using a non-toxic fire starter, initially build the fire in the front with 1"-2" diameter logs. Gradually feed the fire with 4"-5" diameter logs; as coals build, push them to the back and stoke the fire to maintain a small flame to create more coals. Wood-fired ovens typically do not have doors; an air-tight door turns your oven into a smoker. If desired, a local metal shop can fabricate a custom door with an adjustable vent opening and wood handles.

While cooking with fire is an art for the accomplished chef, our Lancelot oven makes it easy for the grill master of the house to gauge and regulate the temperature while creating entire meals the whole family will enjoy!
